Why Students Struggle

	SAT/ACT	High School
Number of Questions	Designed so you can't finish or you really have to rush to finish	Designed so you can finish
Answer Choices	Written to trick students and filled with common errors	Goal is to assess strengths and weaknesses, not to try to get a student to answer questions incorrectly
Essay	40-50 min	Hours & weeks
Reading	Under serious time constraints	Read at home
Writing	GRAMMAR!	Grammar has little emphasis in most schools
Math	Intentionally hard to understand and convoluted (especially on the SAT)	More straightforward

Let's take a look at some sample ACT and SAT questions.

Passage I

LITERARY NARRATIVE: This passage is from the short story “From Aboard the Niobrara” by Kimberly M. Blaeser (©1993 by Kimberly M. Blaeser). It is from the book Earth Song, Sky Spirit: Short Stories from a Native American Experience.

The passage begins with a female narrator traveling to her hometown.

Late at night in my old bed, I listen to the night 50 sounds of the house and fall asleep counting the changes that have come to my little hometown: The park is off limits after dark now, the football field is fenced in, one-hour photo has come to town along with a tanning salon and a pizza parlor. The dry goods store 55 is gone, the dairy, long gone. People lock their houses now more than once a year when the carnival comes to town. But all of these changes pale in comparison to what has replaced the bait shop, the used car lot, and Mr. Morton’s small farm, what has sprung up on High-60 way 59 at the edge of town: Las Vegas-style gambling.

6. According to the narrator, which of the following businesses is relatively new to her hometown?

- F. The tanning salon
- G. The bait shop
- H. The dry goods store
- J. The used-car lot

SAT

The following passage is adapted from the first inaugural address of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The speech was given in 1933 as the nation faced the Great Depression, the worst crisis since the Civil War. In the speech, Roosevelt sought both to calm the fears gripping American and to outline a plan to combat the economic crisis.

Today our nation faces profound difficulties, though these concern only material things. Values have shrunk to fantastic levels; taxes have risen; our ability to pay has fallen; government of all kinds is faced by serious Line 5 curtailment of income; the means of exchange are frozen in the currents of trade; the withered leaves of industrial enterprise lie on every side; farmers find no markets for their produce; and the savings of many years in thousands of families are gone.

Line 10 More important, a host of unemployed citizens face the grim problem of existence, and an equally great number toil with little return. Only a foolish optimist can deny the dark realities of the moment.

2. The rhetorical effect of the phrase in lines 6-7 (“the withered leaves of industrial enterprise lie on every side”) is to
- A) Propose a specific plan for resolving the crisis facing the nation.
 - B) Suggest that farmers are encountering unusually difficult growing conditions.
 - C) Convey the seriousness of the obstacles confronting the country.
 - D) Imply that society no longer has the resolve to grapple with its problems.
